

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Collaboration Fest to Feature More Than 100 Collaboration Beer Projects

Who: Collaboration Fest, a festival created by Two Parts and the Colorado Brewers Guild, is the original collaboration beer festival in which breweries join forces to create one-of-a-kind beers to showcase the collaborative nature of the craft beer industry.

What: Colorado Brewers Guild members team up with breweries from near and far and let their imaginations run wild, allowing each brewery to choose who they want to work with, what style of beer they want to brew, and what ingredients they want to include. Established in 2014, Collaboration Fest is the headline event kicks off Colorado Craft Beer Week, which will take place March 16-23. Tickets can be purchased at www.collaborationfest.com.

This year's Collaboration Fest will feature over 100 beer collaborations from more than 200 breweries.

When: March 16, 2019, from 2 - 6 p.m.

Where: Hyatt Regency Denver Colorado Convention Center (650 15th St, Denver, CO 80202).

About Collaboration Fest:

Collaboration Fest is the original craft beer collaboration festival that showcases the collaborative nature of the craft beer industry. Created by Two Parts and the Colorado Brewers Guild in 2014, Collaboration Fest pairs Colorado Brewers Guild members with breweries near and far to create unique, one-time-only beers for the public to enjoy. The Colorado Brewers Guild is a non-profit trade association representing Colorado craft breweries and brewpubs, and is dedicated to the improvement of business conditions and is an advocate for its members. Two Parts is a Denver-based event production and promotions company that coordinates with the best restaurants, bars, music venues, and other fine establishments to create craft experiences.
